BIBLE STORY

From 1 Samuel 3, 8-10, 12

As Samuel grew up, God talked to Samuel. Samuel was a special speaker for God.

One day, God's people said to Samuel, "Give us a king." God chose a man named Saul to be king. But Saul began to disobey God.

God then chose a man named David to be the next king of Israel.

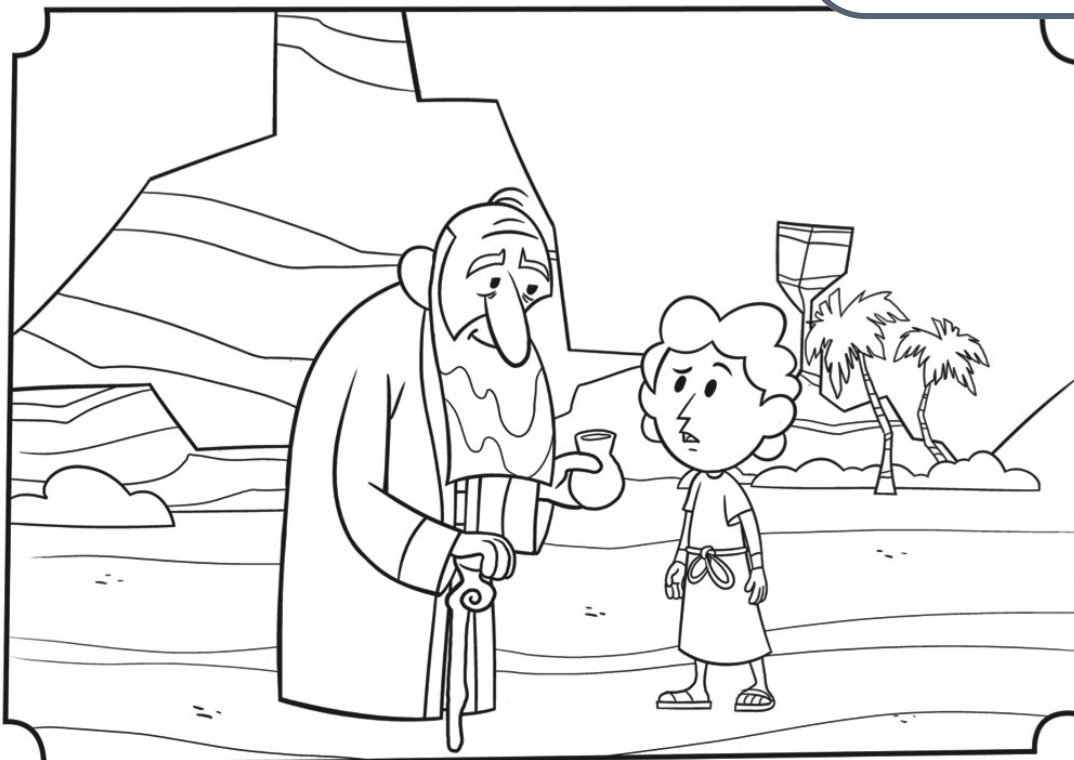

All the people knew Samuel was honest. Samuel prayed for the people. He taught them what was right to do. "Follow God," Samuel said. "Remember what God has done for you."

All his life Samuel was a helper for God.

FAMILY FUN

Finding ways your children can be helpers at home is a valuable teaching tool in their growth and understanding. Sometimes children's jobs seem like more effort than they are worth. But as parents, we have tremendous opportunities to teach our children to be helpers.

Ask your children to assist you in setting the table, folding laundry, or washing dishes.

Children can learn to take on responsibility through age-appropriate tasks. Always remember to encourage the children as they help. Positive affirmation gives them the confidence they need as they assist and learn. Always remember to thank God for your little helpers!

FAMILY HELPERS.

Find a service project your family can be involved in together. Help a neighbor rake leaves. Clean a section of the church building. Bake and decorate cookies for someone who is alone or has been ill. Talk about the task to make sure all family members understand what they are doing. After the activity is finished, share how each family member is a helper for God.
