Leadership Lessons from the Wright Brothers: Part 1

The Voices That Shape Us

Creek Kids Leaders,

As I read David McCullough's The Wright Brothers, one early moment stood out. Their father brought home a simple flying toy made of cork and rubber bands. Orville and Wilbur played with it until it broke, then built their own. Their father filled their home with books and Scripture and created an environment where curiosity could grow long before they ever touched a glider.

Pastor Dave

The voices that shape us help determine who we become. And God now uses your voice to shape a child's view of God, themselves, and their future.

“Remember your leaders... consider the outcome of their way of life and imitate their faith.” — Hebrews 13:7

Thank you for being a voice that builds a child's confidence in Christ.

Blessings,
Dave
